Further information

Newground is a social enterprise operating throughout the North of England and is a member of the Together Housing Group. We are a modern and innovative organisation that nurtures and develops our greatest assets - our staff – to achieve our social and environmental mission.

We are seeking a professionally qualified individual to join an expanding team based in the North West, but requiring travel to a large client base across the UK. You will be required to develop and deliver high quality commercial services, as well as identify opportunities from existing and prospective clients, to ensure our clients minimise environmental, health and safety risks, comply with legal requirements and demonstrate good management practices through the implementation of certified management systems.

The successful candidate will be an experienced consultant and trainer with the skills, enthusiasm and dedication to provide environmental, health and safety and quality consultancy and training solutions across a range of business sectors. With a degree in a relevant subject, ideally registered as an IEMA auditor, and with well developed presentation, communication and organisation skills to deliver tailored client solutions on time and to budget, you will have a proven track record of supporting clients to develop, implement and audit management systems. You must hold a current UK driving license and have your own vehicle with insurance for business use.
